2. Persons attending this meeting were [redacted] and the undersigned. This meeting was called for the purpose of familiarizing [redacted] with the duties, responsibilities, and procedures we wish him to carry out in connection with the HYCON audit. He will, in effect, serve as our representative in the review of the HYCON audit and will thus satisfy our interest in contracts let with the company through Perkin-Elmer. [redacted] was alerted to various peculiar costs which may be otherwise disallowed were he not familiar with the associate activities of these costs. In addition to being made knowledgeable of the CIA interest in the current Perkin-Elmer contract, he was advised that a test site area exists in the western area of the United States for which certain travel costs are chargeable. In addition, he was informed of the aircraft crash which occurred on 17 November 1955 inasmuch as the project has authorized HYCON to claim expenses for transportation of remains and cost of family escort of remains and burial expenses. Further, he was alerted to the fact that Eastman Kodak is a contract contributor and that certain costs of transporting material to and from Rochester, New York, have been authorized. 41
